About American College of Cardiology

The American College of Cardiology (ACC) is a 52,000-member medical society that is the professional home for the entire cardiovascular care team. The mission of the College is to transform cardiovascular care and to improve heart health. The ACC leads in the formation of health policy, standards and guidelines. The College operates national registries to measure and improve care, provides professional medical education, disseminates cardiovascular research and bestows credentials upon cardiovascular specialists who meet stringent qualifications. For more information, visit ACC.org [1].

The ACC, working with its International Chapters, partner cardiovascular societies and other stakeholders, is committed to bring the latest education and research to cardiovascular professionals in countries and regions around the world.
