The Global Alcohol Policy Conference (GAPC), organised by the Global Alcohol Policy Alliance, is the leading forum for the world's alcohol policy makers, advocates, researchers, civil society activists and practitioners. Building on the strong commitment and recent alcohol policy interventions in the country, Ireland is the perfect host for GAPC 2020. It will be held in Dublin 9-11 March 2020.

The conference in Ireland will have the theme: "Alcohol, Equity and Global Health: the benefit of alcohol control for sustainable development for all." It maintains the tradition of focusing on advocacy, overcoming vested interests in alcohol policy development and the need for international collaboration to stop the harm caused by alcohol.

The call for abstracts and registration is now open: www.gapc2020.org [1]
