Two Expert Working Groups are being convened this year under the WHO Global Coordination Mechanism on NCDs (GCM/NCD) to produce recommendations to Governments on the Integration NCD prevention and control with other health and development issues and Alignment of international cooperation with national NCD plans. The two Working Groups met for the first time this month and will be convening again in June.

More information on the first meeting and plans for consecutive meetings can be found via the links below.

The GCM/NCD has made available online background papers for public review and comment, please see links below.
