

Mobilising the means: Sustainable financing for health and NCDs in post-2015

How do we effectively mobilize resources for health to ensure countries respond effectively to the health challenges of the post-2015 era? This question set the tone for the interactive roundtable, Mobilizing the Means: Sustainable financing for health and NCDs in Post-2015, co-hosted by the Permanent Missions of the Caribbean Community to the United Nations (CARICOM), UNDP, and the NCD Alliance.

Held on 28 May 2015, in the margins of the preparations for the July 2015 conference in Addis Ababa, stakeholders discussed the needs, challenges, and best practices for scaling up resources for health and NCDs, as part of implementing the post-2015 development agenda.
