
UN targets on health risk factors can prevent 37 million deaths by 2025

Imperial College London

A study led by Imperial College London, published today in the Lancet, has estimated how achieving globally-agreed targets for health risks between 2010 and 2025 will reduce NCD mortalities

More information [1]

Post Date: Tuesday, 6 May, 2014

Source URL: <https://ncdalliance.org/news-events/news/un-targets-on-health-risk-factors-can-prevent-37-million-deaths-by-2025>

Links

[1] http://www3.imperial.ac.uk/newsandeventspggrp/imperialcollege/newssummary/news_2-5-2014-16-30-4